The Bookstock Fund

SUPPORTING LITERACY AND READING INITIATIVES

Fall, 2013

Thank you for your interest in the Bookstock Fund. Our mission is to support literacy, education and reading initiatives in Detroit and the metropolitan area. The Bookstock Fund committee awards micro-grants to projects that meet the criteria of our mission. Those who wish to apply for funding must complete a short application form (see attached) describing what the funds will be used for and how it fits within the parameters of our mission. This application must be mailed and received in our office before November 15, 2013. No late applications will be considered. Our address is:

Bookstock Fund
c/o Jewish Community Relations Council
6735 Telegraph Road, Suite 140
Bloomfield Hills, MI 48302

The Bookstock Fund committee will review applications and contact awardees via e-mail and regular mail by December 13, 2013. It is our intention that all awarded funds will be used promptly in order to benefit students for the 2013-2014 school year. A final implementation report along with receipts for all materials purchased must be received by May 1, 2014 in our office. If funds are not completely used by that time, any unused monies need to be refunded back to the Bookstock Fund. We will also be contacting all grantees to set up a site visit at your organization or school in February so we can get a report of how the funds are being used and how the project is progressing. Feel free to contact us at bookstockfund@bookstock.info with any questions.

Thank you.
